Free-Trial Software
You will be delighted with the evaluation software we provide! We provide you with the complete, fully operational Structural Engineering Library Version 6.0 system to install on your own computer.
This evaluation program only limits your use with occasional pop-up reminder screens and "watermarks" on the printouts. It gives you a full 45 days to use the package with an optional 45 day extension.
We receive many questions from prospective users asking us how the software can help them in their business. Each business is unique...it has it's own specialties, ways of developing calculations, an inventory of already purchased software and a set of goals for the future.
The only way you can evaluate if the software will help you is to actually use it. Allowing a prospective user to test the system and learn about the capabilities of all the modules is essential.....and when you find out how much it can do you will be excited...very excited.
